SAN RAMON, March 10th -- Amcom Technology is pleased to announce that Jon Messer will be joining the Product Development Team in our Amcom Computer Services division.

Jon is a noted expert within the ColdFusion Community, particularly in the area of software frameworks using Model-Glue. Jon is also an expert with Rich Internet Application technologies on the Adobe technology platform (AIR, Flex, and Flash). The combination of these two expertise will allow Amcom to provide an even higher degree of RIA based solutions.

Amcom Technology is a member of the Amcom companies located in the San Francisco Bay Area (San Ramon). The company provides premium end-to-end technology services from Web 2.0/RIA software development, to network infrastructure and business intelligence.
